Following on the successful launch of the streamlined 750Lt JoJo Slimline tank into the marketplace was an increasing demand from the public for an even greater variety of colours, textures and finishes.

And that is why trusted industry leader JoJo Tanks introduces a new designer exterior – a richly-textured luxurious marble-finish in Sandstone, Evening Shadow and Meadow Green to add edgy depth and variety to the colour range already on offer from JoJo Tanks. ^

“We believe that the urban market in particular is looking for greater variety in finishes and colourations within the slimmer tank range,” explains JoJo Tanks managing director, Rod Cairns, “The distinctive glossy speckled character of the marble-finish is not only hugely attractive; it also effortlessly blends into the colours and hues of the environment making it the natural choice for installation into both traditional and contemporary gardens. With the fabulous colours and novel textured finishes now available, tanks have become eco-fashion statements that no longer need to be hidden away!”

Great news is that this luxury marble-finish is not only available in the Slimline tank but also in any of JoJo’s existing tank sizes and designs and carries a standard 10% premium. ^

The Slimline™ was specifically created for city living where space is often at a premium. Despite holding a whopping 750Lt of water, it snugly fits into corners and down narrow walkways providing innovative installation options. Several tanks can be joined together to maximise water supply.

The JoJo Slimline™ can be used as a rainwater-harvesting tank (a stainless steel mesh sieve under the lid keeps out leaves and mosquitoes) or as a buffer tank with no sieve as the water runs directly from the mains water supply into the house supply. During municipal water outages, the water stored in the tank becomes the emergency supply. (Install the Slimline™ buffer tank in line with the municipal mains water supply. Supplement with a pressure sensing device and a downstream pressure pump).

Naturally your JoJo tank does more than just look good! It does good too! It offers the smart and easy way to green your home and garden and reduce your carbon footprint. You can harvest rain, your FREE source of water, to water your garden, wash your car and top up your pool. (Plus, save on your water bill!). Just remember to choose a JoJo tank - only the best quality virgin food grade material is used and all tanks carry the Agrément Board of South Africa's certification and a five-year guarantee.
